

Fill-in-the-Blank Weather Story

Fill in words for all the blank spaces below (don't look at the next page until this page is completed!). Get creative and think of the best, most ridiculous words you know. Match the words below to the blank spaces in the story on the next page. Once you're done, read your new story—the funnier, the better!

Type of Weather: _____

Adjective: _____

Adjective: _____

Emotion: _____

Noun: _____

Something You Carry: _____

Piece of Clothing: _____

Part of the Body: _____

Friend's Name: _____

Outdoor Activity: _____

Verb Ending in -ing: _____

Enjoying the Weather

Today, my parents had the Morning News on while I was eating breakfast. The weather forecaster came on and said the community should prepare for _____ .
(TYPE OF WEATHER)

I went outside and saw a _____ and _____ sky. I was _____ because I knew this meant _____ was coming.
(ADJECTIVE) (ADJECTIVE)
(EMOTION)
(NOUN)

I ran back inside to grab my _____. I also put _____ over my _____ to keep it protected. Then, I met up with _____ to play _____. After spending the entire day _____ in the weather, I was so tired I fell asleep right away. I wonder what tomorrow's weather will be!
(SOMETHING YOU CARRY)
(PIECE OF CLOTHING) (PART OF THE BODY)
(FRIEND'S NAME)
(OUTDOOR ACTIVITY)
(VERB ENDING IN -ING)